Loughborough University's Doctoral Prize Fellowships scheme is open for applications.

Loughborough University is looking for outstanding academics who have recently completed their PhD to join Loughborough University to develop and establish an independent research career. The University is offering up to 10 positions.

Excellent scholars in the field of Geography and Environment will be supported to apply.

The two-year Research Fellowships will provide a package of support including Loughborough University academic sponsor, dedicated training, and specialist Fellowship advice.

Salary is £30,942 per annum.

During the Fellowship you will be expected to prepare and submit for an appropriate externally-funded Research Fellowship to set you on a trajectory to accelerate your research career, which will position you as a future research leader.

We would particularly like to encourage BME and female applicants as we are actively seeking to increase numbers of academic staff from these under-represented groups. Applications from those who might want to work part-time are very welcome.

The closing date for applications is 18th March 2020.

It is anticipated that interviews will be held between 1st July to 8th July 2020.

Applicants are expected to identify a potential mentor from Loughborough University academic staff. Informal questions or expressions of interest may be directed to Louise Holt (l.holt@lboro.ac.uk - Head of Geography and Environment) or John Harrison (Research Director, Geography and Environment - j.harrison4@lboro.ac.uk).

All the best
John
