

LEE KUAN YEW WORLD CITY PRIZE

May 2017 | Special feature on elevated parks around the world

Final call for nominations: Stage A and B will close on 31 May 2017 | More info »

Final call for nominations

This is the final call for the Stage A and B nominations for the Lee Kuan Yew World City Prize 2018. Interested cities must first complete Stage A nominations before proceeding to Stage B.

|| Stage A and B closing date
|| 31 May 2017, 6pm +8 GMT

The closing dates are final and will not be further extended. We look forward to receiving nominations for your cities!

Submission details »

Creating value through elevation

Elevated parks have been trending since the launch of Paris' Promenade Plantée in 1993, followed by New York City's High Line in 2009. Much of the attention has been focused on the economic and social benefits of such parks, and less so on the use of elevated spaces for urban parks.

In this special feature, we look at the advantages of tapping on elevated spaces in cities, from increased liveability to enrichment of pedestrian networks and a city's connectivity.

Read the story »

The High Line in New York City

Interview: Flemming Borreskov on the value of the Prize

Flemming Borreskov is Founder and President of Catalytic Society, and President of the International Federation for Housing and Planning (IFHP). He is also the Chairman of the Board of Danish Architecture Centre, and member of the Lee Kuan

Highlights from the archives:

Building Better Environments for Nature and Man

What is biophilia and how can this concept be incorporated into urban design and city planning? More »

A Better City Through Mobility

How improvements in mobility helped transform the city of Medellín. More »

People-centric Cities – Beyond Modernism and the Motorcar

Architect and urbanist Jan Gehl on socially and environmentally sustainable cities. More »

Stairwells, walkways and fresh food – making today's cities healthier cities

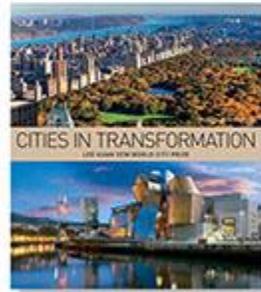

What cities must do to keep their residents healthy while mitigating pollution and controlling levels of waste. More »

About the Prize

The Lee Kuan Yew World City Prize is a biennial international award that honours outstanding achievements and contributions to the creation of liveable, vibrant and sustainable urban communities around the world.

More info »

Publication: Cities in Transformation

This publication includes 11 inspiring, transformative stories of exemplary cities and communities, such as Bilbao and New York City, with practical and impactful urban solutions and ideas that can be adapted across the world. RRP S$60

Purchase info »

Prize Organisers:

CENTRE for
LiveableCities
SINGAPORE

Prize Sponsor:

Keppel Corporation

Presented at:

www.leekuaneyeworldcityprize.com.sg

© 2017 Urban Redevelopment Authority Singapore. All Rights Reserved.