JOIN A LIVELY, INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY AND ENJOY THE MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

Funding Opportunities

- Apply for up to £3000 of renewable research network funding to bring people together to discuss key questions in your area of interest (open to all individual categories of membership)
- Everyone is eligible to apply for conference bursaries taking the form of a free conference place (precedence may be given to new researchers or those from countries with recognised funding difficulties)
- Apply for a £200 travel award (see website above)

Open Networking

- Spatial networks – International Sections and UK Branches
- Directory of Regional Researchers – this will be available with the launch of our new membership portal
- Join the E-bulletin network – all entries are moderated
- Conferences – eg Prague, Czech Republic 2008
- Annual President's Luncheon – open to all members

Opportunities

- Present your work at our open and friendly conferences and events – our events welcome papers from all categories of members and offer advice that comes from the paper referees
- Get actively involved with your Association – we welcome pro-active membership – join us in using the Association to shape and mould the field and to support innovation
- Win one of our annual prizes (see website)

Discounts

- Obtain discounted rates to RSA conferences
- 30% discount on books in the Association's Regions and Cities Series – order by telephone and declare your RSA membership
- 30% discount on all related Taylor and Francis Books including Routledge – order by telephone and declare your RSA membership

Publications – receive:

- Ten issues of Regional Studies (both print and online to Individual/Student and Early Career members). Corporate members receive the print version.
- Four issues of our new Journal Spatial Economic Analysis (both print and online to Individual, Student and Early Career members). Corporate members receive the print version
- Four issues of Regions, the Association's magazine (both print and online to Individual, Student and Early Career members). Corporate members receive the print version
- Free e-subscription to a bundle of seven Routledge journals—sign up via our website
- A fully searchable recent issues CD containing Regional Studies and Spatial Economic Analysis
- Access the fully searchable Regional Studies archive (from Vol 1 No 1) (not currently available to Corporate members)

Conferences

"The Regional Studies Association conferences are exciting and lively events where presentations, open discussion, and the interaction among delegates significantly push the boundaries of our knowledge about regions and the challenges they face. They are also excellent fora for the exchange of ideas between academics, on the one hand, and policy-makers and practitioners, on the other".

Professor Andres Rodriguez-Pose, London School of Economics, UK

Membership

Think global, act local? Read Regional Studies (join the RSA).

Wherever you are, become connected to RSA.

Even in the most remote place, you need to connect to RSA.

Ron Boschma, Utrecht University, The Netherlands
